Missouri Politics

A sharp and bitter controversy is raging in Missouri upon the emancipation question which has absorbed every other issue Even officers of the army stationed there, have taken an active part in the discussions and have lent their influence to one side or the other to such a degree, that very angry feelings have been aroused Committees have demanded of the President the removal of those who were objectionable and the appointment of others in sympathy with the ideas of the party represented, and it now seems possible that the contest will not be without its effect on the National election — Under the heading—"His own Business,"—the St Louis Democrat, the leading emancipation paper in the State, has an article in regard to the action of the President, which we quote in part as showing the feeling existing in the party which that organ represents

We do not know whether President Lincoln expects to be a candidate for a re nomination for a re election or not, nor do we regard it as a matter of much present consequence But if he does, he is engaged in rapidly driving nails into his political coffin, by the policy he is pursuing in this State This he is doing by giving all his patronage to the bitterest enemies of his general policy he has in Missouri What Mr Lincoln may expect to gain for himself or any of his friends by contributing to build up a Copperhead party in a State commanding as controlling a position politically as Missouri, we confess we are at a loss to determine

Of all the men holding leading offices in Missouri by his appointment we do not suppose there are half a dozen who are not opposed to his emancipation proclamation, and would not now be in favor of its re enactment Of his more recent appointments we have no idea that one proclamation man can be found, while a large majority of those now reaping emoluments under his administration would if he were a candidate to day, running upon his past record, oppose his election And while this is the case we are thoroughly convinced that a decided majority of loyal Missourians approve and would sustain his most radical measures

Of the press of Missouri sustaining Mr Lincoln's local policy, there is not one paper not in the liberal receipt of Federal patronage which does not oppose his national administration The wing of the press is led by the Missouri Republican, which is engaged daily in praising Mr Lincoln's Missouri policy and abusing his general policy—both having relation to the question of slavery If Mr Lincoln were a candidate for President, he would find in the Republican, now as before, his most inveterate opposer.

These things are Mr Lincoln's own business He can make such appointments as he chooses, and give his influence in favor of Copperheads and other political opponents if he desires, and we shall not dispute his right, but if he supposes that anti slavery men, not only in Missouri but all over the Union, are likely to overlook such a disposition of his power, he is greatly mistaken We notice already that the Republican press of the country is beginning to speak out quite plainly upon the subject, and if the present condition of things in Missouri continues much longer, what is now no more than a gentle murmur will swell into a voice of thunder

TRAITORS —Silas Wright who was one of the best and purest Democrats of his time once said 'If among us there be any who are prepared, for any earthly object, to dismember our confederacy, and destroy that Constitution which binds us together, let the fate of an Arnold be theirs, and let the detestation and scorn of every American be their constant companions, until, like him, they shall abandon a country whose rich blessings they are no longer worthy to enjoy"

We respectfully beg leave to commend the sentiment expressed above, to the consideration of the Peace Conventions, which the self styled Democracy of Oregon seems to have a fancy for holding, about this time It will be a good thing for them to consider, before they vote that they are in favor of a peace which must accomplish the dissolution of the Union, and by that vote bring upon themselves "the scorn and detestation of every American" Will not the organs of a party, which was once proud of the reputation and patriotic power of Silas Wright, republish his words of warning, and invite their readers to give heed to them?

AN EPITAPH FOR SLAVERY —John W Forney, who has been as subservient a tool of slavery, as any politician in the United States excepting, perhaps, his old master, the dilapidated "public functionary" since he has discovered the error of his political ways has prepared the following epitaph for the grave of the "peculiar institution," whom it is kicked out of being and action

"Died, by the hands of its friends who were mad enough to believe that because slavery had flourished and been tolerated in a land of liberty and law, slavery could therefore destroy both liberty and law"

THE WORLD'S TELEGRAPH —It is announced in Eastern papers that Cassius M Clay American Minister at St Petersburg has secured from the Russian Government a charter for a telegraph line from the Amoor river to the north-west coast of the American continent, which, if accomplished will unite all the continents, and be the grand message bearer of the universe—the wonder and glory of this generation

STORMY —We learn that quite a storm prevailed on the Columbia river, yesterday

REASONS FOR GIVING THANKS —Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati is the only Roman Catholic prelate who so far is we are yet apprised called on his flock to unite in celebrating the late National Thanksgiving in gratitude for our recent Union triumphs Here is his pastoral, which we copy from the Catholic Telegraph And we do so because there seems to be a disposition for various reasons to induce the Catholics in our State to suppose that their interests spiritual as temporal are indentified with those of Democracy —an idea so preposterous on its face that it is strange that it can be entertained for an instant by any intelligent man

The observance of thanksgiving days and feasts of fasting humiliation and prayer recommended by the President of the United States and the Governor of Ohio was left by the ecclesiastical authority of this diocese in former years to the well known public spirit and piety of our reverend clergy and their respective congregations Events however of recent occurrence seem to require that the sixth day of the present month should be observed with special devotion by all our people We trust therefore that our churches will be thrown open and solemn religious services performed to thank the Lord of Hosts that victory after victory has been granted to the justice of our cause and the valor and patience of our armies, that the devastating ravages of war have been repelled from our soil well State that the obstruction to the free navigation of the glorious rivers which fertilize our territory and bear on their bosoms our rich commerce to the ocean have been removed; and that the resistance to the laws and the wicked and disgraceful riots which have elsewhere occurred, have found among us but few accomplices

In raising our hearts and voices to God in gratitude for these blessings we protest against the unjust imputation that we rejoice at the evils which have overwhelmed brethren who, by their own counsels and acts, became enemies It is not, Heaven is the witness times forbid, for the shedding of their blood the capture of hundred thousand of their soldiers the storming of their strongholds the desolation of their once flourishing plantations and the crushing of their industry, that we rejoice but that rebellion has been suppressed, treason disconfitted, and suicidal overtures to foreign Powers disappointed and baffled It is for these results we lift our eyes and hands to Heaven And we pray in this words which was once the honored chief of our Hierarchy the kinsman of one so long known as the last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence the friend of Franklin and his colleague in the mission from our Government to the Canadian people that (this bad war once happily concluded) we may be restored to, and for evermore preserved in Union and that safe at once from foreign foe and domestic treason we may continue to realize that glorious destiny which was so bountifully shared with the oppressed and the down trodden of Europe, and which exhibited our Constitution and laws as the wisest and best ever framed by man for his welfare and happiness in this temporal state

And we add to this prayer the expression not of a hope, but of a conviction that the people of the United States and the Government at Washington will not impose hard conditions on the State or States of the South that may desire to return to the Union but welcome them back with the magnanimity of a great Christian Nation, forgiving and forgiven the past in the joy of a present and everlasting reunion"

By order of the Most Reverend Archbishop C H BOUCAS Secretary

ANATHEMA —Dr Holmes, in his Fourth of July oration, thus anathematises the chivalrous Virginian, Ruffin, who, on the 12th day of April 1861, commenced the civil war in America by firing the first gun

To make sure that no absence of malice aforethought should degrade the grand malignity of settled purpose into the trivial effervescence of transient passion, the torch which was literally to launch the first missile figuratively "to fire the Southern heart," and light the flame of civil war was given into the trembling hand of an old white-headed man, the wretched incendiary whom history will hand cuff in eternal infamy with the temple burner of ancient Ephesus The first gun that spat its iron insult at Fort Sumter, shook every loyal American full in the face

If this does not "excommunicate with curses" a traitor to his country the English language is incompetent to the work —Boston Transcript

ICE FOR DIPTHERIA —A correspondent of the Providence Journal vouches for the efficacy of ice as a cure for diptheria, croup and all ordinary inflammation of the throat The manner of application is as follows

Break up a small lump of ice in a towel and put the pieces in a bowl Take position slightly inclined backwards, either in a chair or on a sofa Proceed for half an hour with a tea-spoon to feed yourself with small lumps of ice, letting them dissolve slowly in the back part of your mouth, or the entrance of the throat A single such application will often break up a common sore throat which otherwise would have a course of two or three days In case of a bad sore throat use the ice frequently and freely In case of ulceration or diptheria, keep a small lump of ice constantly in the mouth

DEMOCRATS IN DANGER —The Express affects to be apprehensive of a big rush of negroes to California, from which it anticipates direful results Well, the Express ought to know if its friends cannot hold their own against the competition of the poor blacks, and should advise its Democratic readers to emigrate if Sambo is likely to prove their superior They have had experience enough in the bleaching process to know how it works, for the census shows that more than one ninth of the colored population in the South have white blood in their veins —Marysville Appeal

We have Democrats here who are as much frightened as the Express, lest some day their colored brethren should compete with them and compel them to yield We pity them, because if they have no more sense than their talk indicates, we rather think the darkies would beat them in a fair race and come out so far ahead as to leave them nothing but their Democracy to live on

SNORING —Good old Deacon A , having occasion to spend a night at a hotel was assigned a room in which there were three single beds, two of which already contained occupants Soon after the light was extinguished a man in one of the other beds began to snore so loudly as to prevent his falling asleep The tumult increased as the night wore away until it became absolutely fearful Two or three hours after midnight the snorer turned himself in bed gave a hideous groan and became silent The deacon had supposed the third gentleman asleep until at this juncture, he heard him exclaim, 'He's dead! thank God! He's dead!'

Additional Eastern News

WASHINGTON Oct 7 —The Navy Department has official information that the rebels contemplated throwing Greek fire into some North Carolina cities provided the rebel iron clad Atlanta had escaped from Savannah An official report of a communication found aboard the Atlanta shows that, among the various classes of projectiles were a large number of shells marked Robins fluid shells for seven inch rifle guns Robins fluid shell is the same as the Greek fire employed by Colonel Rains against Charleston against which the rebels make such great objection

WASHINGTON Oct 8 —An other party of contrabands who have arrived at Alexandria represent that they were told to leave by their owners, because they had nothing wherewith to support them during the coming winter

CHICAGO Oct 7 —A passenger from Memphis reports that General Sherman had received a dispatch from below, to the effect that General Franklin had attacked the rebels in the vicinity of Brashear City (La) and was repulsed No date given The Thirteenth army corps subsequently came up and after a severe battle, the rebels were defeated No particulars of the affair are known

KNOXVILLE (Tenn) Oct 7 —Colonel Carter with the advance brigade in the east had a sharp skirmish yesterday with the rear of Gen Sam Jones forces The rebels retreated from the hill in disorder leaving sixteen dead Our loss was four wounded and missing The rebels are at Carter s Station, five miles from Jonesboro, in force, and may endeavor to make a stand there

The National Guard, organized under Burnside s order is increasing in numbers rapidly It assures immunity from guerrillas

NEW HAVEN (Conn), Oct 8th — Returns from one hundred townships embracing nearly all the towns in which elections were held on Monday, October 5th, show that the Unionists carried fifty five and the opposition forty five The vote in many parts of the State was unusually heavy

NEW YORK, Oct 8 —The Herald has a dispatch saying We have intelligence from Martinsburg, Va to the effect that there are no rebels in the Shenandoah Valley, except a few guerrillas skulking in the mountains Our cavalry scoured the country as far as Strasburg and Front Royal without finding any traces of the rebels Information also reached them that there was no movement on the part of the enemy s cavalry toward Western Virginia as reported

The Bureau of Deserters has arrested, in the last two months, 15 000 of the 80,000 absentees from the Union army

Commander Dobson, of the United States gunboat Seneca reports to the Navy Department, under date of Doty Sound Ga, Sept 25th that on the night of the 22d September he sent an armed boat up the Altamaha river and destroyed Hudson Place salt works, near Darien Ga, entirely demolishing the boilers, engines, vaults, etc, bringing off J H Lockwood the Superintendent The other employees and visitors fled at the approach of our forces The works were situated within two miles of the encampment of a rebel company, whose pickets came very near the works, but they did not discover or resist the attack

A special dispatch from Cincinnati to the World says Correspondents report that reinforcements for Rosecrans are constantly arriving from the West and elsewhere The rebel cavalry cannot seriously interfere with Rosecrans's supplies A great battle must soon be fought Confidence is felt as to the final issue

The Tribune s special dispatch from Washington says It is understood here among persons who are posted that ten or twelve more Russian vessels of war are expected to arrive at New York or some other American port within a few weeks It is believed in well informed quarters that they are likely not to go away soon, but may probably winter in our harbors There are many theories as to the issue of this movement of the Russian Navy but the general belief is that the Emperor expects to keep a fleet cruising during the winter months, lest some difficulty with his neighbors might arise, and find him as they found him once before bound up in his own harbors

The Herald's Washington dispatch states that the prize steamer Diamond from Charleston bar, brings dispatches from Admiral Dahlgren to October 3d When the Diamond left a portion of the iron-clads were engaged with the rebel batteries The Morris Island batteries also appeared to be firing

A special dispatch to the Post says James S Rollins, Member of Congress, is working against the delegation from Missouri in the Seceded matter President Lincoln has promised that an order will be issued in Missouri similar to that issued in Kentucky by Burnside, prevenating rebels from voting at elections This will go but a little way toward the removal of the evils of which loyal men in Missouri complain, and failing to reach the point in this case can hardly prove satisfactory to those who desire to see the Government sustain in office those men only who unconditionally support every step and feature of its policy

Subscriptions are now so large for the Five twenty loan that it is certain that Chase will not call for another loan this year

ST LOUIS, Oct 8 —Intelligence has been received at Headquarters that about 2 000 rebels from Marmaduke s command, under Col Shelby, have entered south west Missouri from Arkansas for raiding purposes Our troops are concentrating upon them from several points, and their capture is not improbable It is believed this force is intended to be the nucleus of the Missouri State Guard the reorganization of which since the capture of Jeff Thompson has been placed in the hands of Waldo P Johnson, late State Senator from Missouri

A Leavenworth telegram says there is much excitement there in consequence of reports of a rebel advance on Fort Scott and Kansas City All the troops at Leavenworth have been ordered below and it is stated that the militia will be called out Fort Scott is believed to be strong enough to successfully resist attack Col Blair is in command of the fort

LOUISVILLE Oct 7 —Guerrillas at Woodburn, Warren county, recently committed many depredations, burning a number of houses robbing the citizens &c

Reports are current that during the late rebel raid into Glasgow Ky by 80 guerrillas near daybreak they surprised our forces there amounting to upwards of 300, and captured nearly all of them Our papers deny this but the story is repeated this evening by travelers though discredited in military circles

The Nashville Press says Wheeler s cavalry crossed the river at Washington last Thursday morning Oct 1st, 13 miles above Chattanooga, and passed down the Sequatchee valley The rebels captured fifty wagons of one of our trains at the foot of the mountain near Anderson s cross roads, burning a number of them and killing about 100 horses and mules General Mitchell, with the Union cavalry, as soon as he learned the crossing of the rebels, pursued them and on the 2d and 3d killed and wounded 70 rebels, took 200 prisoners and recaptured 250 mules On reaching the Walnut Range the rebels shot 250 mules to prevent them from falling into our hands

European Intelligence

LIVERPOOL Oct 7th —The Persia from Liverpool Sep 26th, and Queenstown Sept 27th, has arrived

The pirates Alabama Conrad and Georgia have sailed the ports of the Cape of Good Hope and captured and bonded several vessels — The steamer Vanderbilt left St Helena on the 20th of August in pursuit The Alabama is reported to have captured thirteen prizes

Earl Russ in a letter to Earl Russell on withdrawing from London had been published which disobeyed Davis' instructions, saying he would not ask the British Government was determined to decline friendly overtures and would not receive him as a Minister It was therefore no longer consistent with the dignity of the Confederate Government for Mason to remain

The Polish question was unchanged It was reported that Baron Gros had informed Earl Russell that it was the opinion of the French Government relative to the Polish questions that it was preferable to close the discussion

NEW YORK Oct 7th —The pirate Georgia has run into St. Simon's Bay on the 16th of Aug for coal She had captured and bonded the Prince of Wales, from Valparaiso to Australia This is said to be her fifteenth prize The pirate Conrad is now called the Tusca loosa She put into St Simon's Bay Aug 16 She had captured the ship Santee, from Calcutta The United States Consul protested against the capture of the Sea Bird which was also captured by this vessel, on the ground that she was captured in British waters and also demanded the delivery of the Tuscaloosa on the grounds that she was a tender and not yet condemned She violated the Queen a proclamation by entering a British port. The Governor decided adversely to the Consul in both cases, whereupon the Consul entered a protest

CONGRESSMAN VOORHEES IS CALLED TO ACCOUNT —A correspondent writing to the Cincinnati Gazette from Indianapolis, under date of September 13th says

The Second Battalion Sixty third Indiana Volunteers returned from Terre Haute on Saturday Most of the men were raised in Mr Voorhees' district, and one company in the old town Learning that he was on the train, the soldiers broke for the car where he sat, dashed in the door, and in spite of the entreaties of his wife, threatened to hang him with the bell rope if he did not get off the train Calling him that no man who called American soldiers Lincoln dogs, who, when the war was over would wear collars so labelled should ride with them alive The officers interfered and forced the men back, almost at the point of the sword A second and third attempt was made, but failed, through the entreaties and command of the officers Voorhees solemnly protested that he had been insulted, and that they had read but on class of papers They answered that they had heard his speeches and that was enough to know he was a traitor At last he was in the car at Greencastle he might do so, but that the Sixty third never would ride into Indianapolis on the same train with him, or any train for the Union and the Government which would abuse the soldiers who were trying to protected him as well as them It was only narrow escape for Dan and neither the weeping wife nor his entreaties would have prevented him if he had continued the attack

A CONDENSED ARGUMENT —A very celebrated divine says The world we inhabit must have had an origin, that origin must have consisted in a cause, that cause must have been intelligent that intelligence must have been efficient that efficiency must have been ultimate that ultimate power must have been supreme and that which always was supreme, we know by the name of

THE UNIVERSAL SIGNATURE.—We understand that petitions, to Congress, are in circulation asking for the establishment of a Naval and Marine Hospital in this city and Port. This must important of all, so far as our local interests are concerned, that Portland may be made a Port of Entry These objects all merit the endorsement and active encouragement of our citizens, and we trust that the success will be signed by every one who loves our municipal prosperity

THE COURTS.—None of our courts have been in operation for the last few days, but a large number of suits, comprising criminal, replevin, and divorce cases, have already been placed on the Circuit Court docket, to be tried the next term, which commences the second Monday of next month

STEAMER TO COMMENCE.—We understand that positively upon the arrival of Major Lee, Deputy Provost Marshal General, daily expected, the enrollment of the citizens of this county, liable to duty under the Conscription Act, will commence

RAIN.—Notwithstanding the continual showers of "mist," yesterday, our streets presented quite a lively appearance Quite a number of strangers, from the interior, are now visiting our city

THEATRE.—Our citizens, generally, will be glad to learn that this popular institution will open again in this city, on Saturday evening next To insure crowded houses, we need only remark that the proprietor has secured for a limited number of nights, the services of the talented and accomplished Mrs. John Dean Hayne At Vancouver, notwithstanding the inclement weather the houses were crowded, every night to witness drama, in five acts, entitled "Divorce or the Actress," will be presented. See programme

FERRY.—On and after Saturday P M, the P M. Road, will be closed for repairs, and the ferry suspended until further notice

SEWING MACHINE.—Mr Pierson, agent for Wheeler & Baker's Sewing Machines, has just received a large supply See advertisement

Marine Intelligence

NEW YORK, Oct 7th —The Persia from Liverpool Sep 26th, and Queenstown Sept. 27th has arrived.

The pirates Alabama, Conrad and Georgia have left the ports of the Cape of Good Hope in April and bonded several vessels — The steamer Vanderbilt left St Helena on the 30th of August in pursuit The Alabama is reported to have captured thirteen prizes

Mason's letter to Earl Russell on withdrawing from London had been published. It alleged Davis' instructions, saying he believed the British Government was determined on hostile friendly overtures and would not receive him as a Minister. It was therefore no longer consistent with the dignity of the Confederate Government for Mason to remain

The Polish question was unchanged It was reported that Baron Gros had informed Earl Russell that it was the opinion of the French Government relative to the Polish negotiations that it was preferable to close the matter

NEW YORK, Oct 7th —The pirate Georgia arrived in St Simon's Bay on the 16th of August. She had captured and bonded the ship Wales, from Valparaiso to Antwerp. This is said to be her fifteenth prize The pirate Conrad is now called the Tusca She put into St Simon's Bay Aug 9th. She had captured the ship Santee, from Boston The United States Consul protested against the capture of the Sea Bird which was captured by this vessel, on the ground that she was captured in British waters and also demanded the delivery of the prize on the grounds that she was a prize and not yet condemned. She violated the decree a proclamation by entering a British port. The Governor decided adversely to the Consul in both cases, whereupon the Consul entered a protest.

THE VOORHEES IS CALLED TO AC-COUNT.—A correspondent writing to the Cincinnati Gazette, from Indianapolis, under date of the 5th inst, says

"The Second Battalion sixty-third Indiana Regiment returned from Terre Haute on Saturday. Most of the men were raised in Mr. Voorhees' district, and one company from his own town Learning that he was on the train the soldiers broke for the car where he was seated in the door, and, in spite of the cries of his wife, threatened to hang him with a hemp rope if he did not get off the train Telling him that no man who called American citizens Lincoln dogs, who, when the war began, would wear collars so labelled Then rode with them alive The officers interposed and forced the men back, almost at the point of the sword. A second and third attempt was made, but failed through the firmness and command of the officers Voorhees was already protected that he had been warned and that they had raised but in class to frighten. They answered that they had heard the speech, and that was enough to know he was a traitor At last he was induced to believe that if he would quietly leave the train his wife, he might do so, but that the Hoosier never would ride into Indianapolis on the same train with him, or any one who would abuse the soldiers who were fighting for the Union and the Government protected him as well as them It was a very narrow escape for Dan, and neither the weeping wife nor his entreaties would have saved him if he had continued the ride."

VOLUNTEER ARGUMENT.—A very celebrated author once says "The world we inhabit must have had an origin, that origin must be assigned to a cause, that cause must have been intelligent, that intelligence must have been efficient, that efficiency must have been eternal, that ultimate power must have been supreme, and that which always was supreme, we know by the name of God."

CARTILAGE N Y Oct 1857

DR O B BAKER—Most Esteemed Friend I have had a severe attack of Diarrhœa accompanied with griping pains and was reduced very low I tried many different medicines but all to no purpose until I got a bottle of your PAIN PANACEA and commenced its use The first dose put a quietus on the griping pain and I had not used the twenty-five cent bottle before I was entirely cured I also recommended it to a friend who was attacked with cramp colic and suffering with excruciating pains and three doses entirely cured him

I have been afflicted with the disease for more than six months and my victuals distress me my stomach sicken to such a degree as to cause vomiting I was most of the time costive I found that the Pills kept my bowels open without griping or pain I have actually gained since using them, in weight—being ten pounds heavier than when I commenced I owe my cure solely to the use of the Pills

In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries or the expediency of adopting them in practice It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease! Try the Cholagogue and the object is accomplished Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him

A Squinting Jury.

Once upon a time, or, to be a little more particular, nearly half a century ago, (for the editor of this paper well remembers the time, place and scene, which are firmly fixed upon his boyish recollections,) there dwelt in the town of , in old England, a remarkable oddity, in the person of an attorney at law, who, although not fair to look upon, (for he was in truth one of the homeliest specimens of humanity ever beheld by mortal man,) was withal a person of sound judgment, great benevolence, varied learning, a poet, a painter, and a wit of no mean order.

It so happened that the aforesaid gentleman, G. G , Esq., was appointed high sheriff of the town of . He was a man of fortune, and had a kind heart; as many a poor prisoner could testify, who partook of the good cheer with which the prisoners were liberally supplied at Christmas and other well known festivals, from the private purse of the high sheriff.

It was, of course, the duty of the high sheriff to summon a grand and petit jury to attend at the quarter sessions, of which the recorder, mayor and aldermen of the borough composed the court. In the performance of his official duty in summoning of the petit jury, our high sheriff indulged in some of the strangest and drollest freaks that have probably ever been heard of in any other town or country. In the first place he summoned for the October court, a jury consisting of twelve of the fattest men he could find in the borough, and when they came to the book to be sworn, it appeared that only nine jurors could sit comfortably in the box! After a great deal of sweating, squeezing and scolding, the panel was literally jammed in the box, and when seated they presented to the eye of the court, the barristers, and the audience, "the tightest fit" of a jury that was ever seen in a court room. Literally they became, much to the astonishment of the court and its robed advocates, a "packed jury" and no mistake.

For the January term, our facetious high sheriff (in consequence, it is said, of some hint from the recorder that there should be no more fat panels summoned to his court,) went into the opposite extreme.

He summoned twelve of the leanest and tallest men he could find in the borough: and when they took their seats in the box, it appeared comparatively empty—there was indeed room for more of the same sort and dimensions.

For the April term of the court, our humorous functionary summoned a jury consisting of twelve barbers! Now it so happened that among the latter were the perruquiers, who dressed the recorder's and barristers' wigs, and some of the latter, arriving late at the bar, had to appear that morning in court with their wigs undressed or half dressed, so as to cut a very ridiculous figure, amidst the smiles and half-suppressed laughter of the bystanders. The high sheriff enjoyed the fun amazingly, but looked as "grave as a judge," while he endeavored to keep silence in the court room.

But the crowning joke of this waggish functionary occurred at the summoning of his fourth and last jury, at the summer session in July. For that term of the court, the high sheriff, not having the fear of the recorder, the mayor and the aldermen, before his eyes, actually summoned a squinting jury! Twelve as queer looking bipeds as ever took their seats in a jury box—a jury that was probably more looked at and laughed at than any of the appointed twelve that ever were sworn to "well and truly try and true deliverance make between their sovereign, lord and king, and the prisoner at the bar."

But the scene was so irresistibly droll that the learned recorder could not maintain his gravity. The mayor and aldermen followed suit. The barristers laughed, while their wigs became bald, powderless; nay, even the poor prisoners in the dock, who were to be put upon their trial, and some of them to undergo transportation, could not refrain from joining the general cachinnation! And when the learned recorder commanded the high sheriff to bring the court room to order, and intimated, with a half-suppressed laugh, that the latter ought to be ashamed of himself for summoning such a jury, the drollery of the court scene was heightened considerably by the quick, ready, and sonorous response of the high sheriff, who, looking at the same time at the squinting jury, exclaimed, "All good and lawful men, your honor.—English Paper.

A Rebel Letter Tells How Rosecrans Flanked Bragg.—The following letter was found on one of the prisoners taken from Bragg's army by our men. It doubtless gives a very accurate account of the chase of Rosecrans after Bragg, but whether the flanking operation of our army which forced Bragg to retreat was effected by the strategem of the ladies alluded to in the letter is not so certain. The letter is sent into the light by the Tennessee correspondent of the Chicago Tribune:

Chattanooga, Tenn., July, 1863.

Dear Will:—Your letter per E. O. C. was received a few days ago. He starts back again to-morrow, therefore I attempt to write. It is almost impossible to collect half a dozen ideas this morning, owing to the noise in camp. I have no doubt you will be very much surprised to hear of Bragg's retreat from Shelbyville, after six months' hard labor preparing to meet the enemy. With one slight skirmish they took two of the strongest positions on our line, to-wit: Raven's and Liberty Gaps in the mountains, which enables them to flank our positions with perfect ease. Bragg was out-generalled, though that is an easy task for a ten-year old school boy. It is a perfect outrage to allow such a numbskull as Bragg to hold the important position that he does. Our loss was, considering the great haste in which we retreated, comparatively nothing, though every tent was burned, so we were left entirely without.

Our retreat to this place was the bitterest pill ever swallowed by this army. A heavy rain was falling all the time, and nothing but mountains. Many of the boys made the entire march without a shoe. Ten days of suffering did more to demoralize the army than everything else before. We lived on one cracker and one-fourth pound of bacon for forty-eight hours. God forbid my experiencing such another time. The infernal foe kept a continual yell close to our heels. Our brigade was rear guard. The cavalry, commanded by the brave and gallant Wharton, sent us word, several times, to press on, as the enemy was pressing him hard. Our army was perfectly demoralized; the first word in the morning and the last at night, was damning Bragg for his cowardly flight from Shelbyville; they had rather perished on the golden fields of Middle Tennessee, fighting an overwhelming number of the foe, than make the retreat we did.

Somebody is guilty of an unpardonable act in permitting the enemy to get possession of those Gaps. General Hardee's troops were guarding them. Our Generals have become too licentious; they neglect their duty. Gen. Hardee and his subalterns were at a pic-nic when the Gaps were taken. The ladies, it was generally believed, prepared the dinner and informed Rosecrans of the unguarded position of Gen. Hardee. Oh! treacherous woman! her smiles and apparent kindness have become a glorious victory for our merciless foe. She was all smiles and kisses: kissing was all the rage. In fact, there was no treasure debarred but by few of them, but at the same time a dark plot was hid in her heart, and she was ready to rejoice in the overthrow of Bragg's army, in which she was the pernicious actress.

"Buy one of these superior razor-strops, sir, and I will tell you a secret worth double the cost, for only a six-pence."

"I'll take one," said a bystander.

The peddler handed him a strop and a box of paste, and went on selling.

"Look here!" interrupted the purchaser, "you promised to tell me something worth double the price."

"Ah, so I did," said the peddler, "and it is this: If you had bought a box of paste for a penny, and put it on your old strop, it would have made it just exactly as good as a new one."

Camels.—A school for poor children having read to their chapter of the Bible the denunciations against hypocrites who "strain at a gnat and swallow a camel," were afterwards examined by the benevolent patroness, Lady , as to their recollections of the chapter—"What, in particular, was the sin of the Pharisees, children?" said the lady. "Ating camels, my lady," was the prompt reply.

Irishism.—A poor-law guardian in the north of Ireland lately addressed his audience: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Board, the eye of Europe is upon us—the apple of discord has been flung in our midst—and if it be not nipped in the bud it will burst into a conflagration—which will deluge the world!"

Bilious Disorders and Liver

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D.C.,

SIR: I have used your Pills in my practice ever since I was made them, and cannot honestly say that they are the best cathartic we employ. They operate in the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are a valuable remedy for derangements of that organ. We seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate as to not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours,

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of what they have done for my wife more good than I can tell. She was sick and pining away for months. Most of the doctors great expense, but got no better. She then commenced your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling from her system of worms (dead) from her body. They also cured her of a bad ill-will, and my wife cured him with two boxes of Pills, while others around us paid from $5 to $10 for worthless bills, and lost much time, without being cured. Pills are more than such a medicine as yours, which is sure to do what is honest, will be prized here. GEO. J. GRIFFIN.

PLANTS HOUSE, SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for my own benefit if I did not report my case to you. For years I suffered in my limbs and brought on excruciating rheumatism. Nothing relieved me. At the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, I procured your Pills, and, contrary to my expectations, was speedily relieved by them. Such a medicine as yours, which is so manifestly adapted to the cure of painful diseases, must be a public benefit. Please send me a supply for my family use.
Yours, very respectfully,
WILLIAM H. DAVIS.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues in every town, and almost every hamlet of the land. Its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints are already known. Nay, few are the families in the land which do not try on this continent without some of its effects; and fewer yet the communities among them some living trophy of its power to save life and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. Such the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the terrible and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs. Even the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be given to children and young persons. Parents should not be deceived against the insidious enemy that steals upon their offspring in the guise of a cough, often the fatal consumption is upon them before the sufferers more lives by the consumptions it prevents than any other disease. Keep it by you, and cure your coughs, colds, and all lesser ills, nor neglect them until no human skill can save you from the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, yields only to death.

All know the dreadful fatality of lung diseases, and that it is their advantage to consult us before closing, as we have an Abstract of Titles to Real Estate, Mortgages and Judgment Liens kept up with County Records.
